Research Interests

Working to improve cyber-security, privacy, and online safety through understanding human behaviors and choices in these realms. Also, how to improve communication about online safety and digital literacy, especially where there are cultural, generational, and economic divides.

Research Support and/or Fellowships

2019 Oxford Global Cybersecurity Capacity Center

Hired as a consultant by Oxford University to work preparing and analyzing data gathered by the researchers in the project.

2018 Oxford Global Cybersecurity Capacity Center

Funded by a gift from Google, supports my work at the Quello Center to continue collaborative research with GCCC into cybersecurity capacity issues, analyze data, and write for publication.

2016- 2019 The Quello Center at Michigan State University

Endowed by James H. and Mary B. Quello for research of telecommunications and impacts.

Research assistant: gathering and analyzing data and writing for publications

2018 RSAC Security Scholar

Selected as a security scholar for fully sponsored attendance at RSA 2018. Special training sessions and mentoring with leading security professionals.

2016- 2019 The Annals of the International Communication Association

Assistant to the editor of the journal.

2013-2016 Online Safety for the Ages (OSA)- Generational Differences in Motivations to Use Security Protections in an Online Banking Context. PIs: Robert LaRose, Shelia R. Cotten, Nora Rifon, Saleem Alhabash. National Science Foundation. $648,396.

Research assistant: conducting interviews with focus groups, analyzing interviews, analyzing quantitative data, constructing online tutorials for experiments, writing analysis for publication.

2013-2016 ICTs & Quality of Life Using ICTs to Enhance Quality of Life Among Older Adults: An Intervention Study. Shelia R. Cotten (PI), National Institute on Aging. $1,875,403

Research Assistant: coding and analyzing interviews, analyzing data and writing analysis for publication.

2014- 2015 Mental Models and Critical Mass: Shaping the Success of Online Communities. PI: Rick Wash. National Science Foundation. $489,678

Special project: designed online experiment, analyzed data, wrote results for publication.

2015- Generative Collaboration: A Multimodal Multiplex Network Perspective of Social Media Usage in Global Innovation Teams, PI: Wietske VanOsch, Charles Steinfield. $494,140.

Research assistant: analyzed comments to code for algorithmic analysis

2012-2013 Michigan State University: Writing Center. Satellite Coordinator: Broad Business School: Leer Career Center.

Writing consultant: coordinated a team of tutors, managed a writing center satellite office, worked as a consultant with students, specialized with non-native English speakers.

TeachingCertification in College Teaching (2018)

Completed special program to train educators in tertiary institutions, includes mentored teaching project and developing personal teaching philosophy

Cybersecurity: Social, Legal, Political, and Technological Dimensions (MI 491)

Proposed and designed class (2018)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials and analyzing results.

Media and Information Policy (MI 850)

Sole Instructor (2019)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials, grading essays, gathering readings.

Digital Business (MI 472)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials, grading essays, gathering readings.

Media Entrepreneurship and Business Strategies (MI 452)

Sole Instructor (2018)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials, grading essays, mentoring TA, and compiling readings.

Media and Information Technologies in Businesses (MI 861)

Sole Instructor (2018)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials, grading papers, and compiling readings.

Media and Information Management (MI 462)

Co-teaching with Dr. Wietske VanOsch (2016, 2017)

Duties include lecturing, preparing class materials, grading papers, and compiling readings.

Social Computing (MI 462)

Co-teaching with Dr. Anna Young Lee-Argaris (2017)

Co-teaching with Dr. Wietske VanOsch (2016)

Duties include preparing class materials, lecturing, guiding lab and group projects, grading, and class documentation

Structural Equation Modeling (CAS 992)

Co-teaching with Dr. Wietske VanOsch (2016, 2017)

Duties include lecturing, grading projects, labs, and working individually with students

Research SkillsStatistical Analysis

Qualitative methods research

Quantitative methods: regression, structural equation modeling, CFA, EFA, ANOVA, descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, etc.

Moderation and Mediation Hayes Method

SPSS, SmartPLS, R, AMOS, NVivo

Content Analysis

Developed interview protocol and content analyzed 21 interviews

Developed content analysis framework for 18 focus groups

Developed code book for comments from online education research project

Taught students at both graduate and undergraduate level how to content analyze social media postings.

Survey Research

Multiple classes in survey research methods
Online survey methods training

Case Analysis

Competitive analysis of adoption of Smart Grid technology by Consumer's Energy
MOOC competitive analysis for Coursaris, EdX, and Educause

Usability Analysis

Testing online research discussion tool prototype on sample population
Analyzed data and produced final report

Ethnographic Research

In depth research of target population for computer application

Employment

Assistant Professor, fixed term

Michigan State University (2019)

Teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate level. Topics include media and information policy as well as the challenges and promise of digital commerce.

Teaching Assistant

Michigan State University (2017-2018)

Worked in various roles to supporting primary faculty in each class assigned. This included everything from grading papers and evaluating assignments to lecturing in classes. In fall 2018 I taught two classes with minimal supervision, including updating syllabus, updating lectures and modifying assignments.

Quello Center (Dr. Bill Dutton)

Research Assistant (2017-2018)

Analyzing data, writing, and working with the team from the Oxford University Global Cyber Capacity Centre. Examining the impacts of cyber security capacity models and nation level policies on individual end-users.

National Science Foundation (Dr. Robert LaRose, PI)

Research Assistant (2016-2017)

Online Safety Across the Ages. A joint project with Michigan State University Federal Credit Union examining online safety behaviors, online banking, and perceptions of threats. Specifically examining differentiation by age cohort. Designing interventions to help inform and improve online safety and digital hygiene habits.

Designing online safety tutorials. Enabling web-based cyber-safety training. Writing findings of research for dissemination, analyzing data, and looking for research findings implications

National Institute on Aging (Dr. Shelia Cotten, PI)

Research Assistant (2015-2016)

ICTs and Quality of Life. ICT use and iPad adoption among seniors research and longitudinal research project on computer intervention in assisted living communities in the Deep South.

Writing findings of research for dissemination, analyzing data, and looking for research findings implications

The Writing Center @ MSU

Business Communications Center Coordinator, 2011-2014

Coordinate staffing for BCC satellite
Liaison with Lear Center Staff

Coordinator for 2012 Michigan Writing Center Association Conference

Organized teams and supervised all aspects of the event: setting up system to evaluate proposals, selected site, maintained communications with multiple stakeholders, coordination, and stayed within budget for an event of over 200 participants and almost 30 presentations.
